UNIT 6 GRAMMAR

Commas

Use a comma and a conjunction to join two sentences.

The girls had to cook, and they were scared.

Use commas to separate words in a series.

They made chicken, cornbread, and carrots for dinner.

Commas are also used to separate the month and the day from the year, and to separate the year from the rest of the sentence.

On December 14, 2005, our winter break begins.

A comma is used after both the greeting and the closing of a friendly letter.

Dear Theo, Your friend, Sandy

Use a comma between the names of a street, city, and state abbreviation in an address and after the name of a city and a state in a sentence. Don't use a comma between a state abbreviation and a ZIP code.

Julio moved to Portland, Maine, last year.

I live at 123 West Elm Street, New York, NY 10024.

A Write C if commas are used correctly. Write NC if commas are not used correctly.
